Rugby Football Looks Up

Impressions by W. F (Deacon) White, B.A.

A few vivid impressions of the last football engagement between the Calgary "Tigers" and the Edmonton "Eskimos" and a few snap judgments is all that I have been asked to contribute to this week's program of the Alberta Rugby Football Union. Needless to say that they are to be embodied in a few terse words. I heartily subscribe to the "few" but the "terse" is baffling.

DEACON WHITE

Dean of western sportsmen, who comments on last Saturday's game in today's program.

If rugby football is to be one of the greatest of all fall sports in Western Canada it will be due not alone to the foundations of which the Deacon has contributed so generously, but in a far greater measure to the fine standards of Canadian sportsmanship toward the establishment of which no man in Canada has contributed more, either by precept or by example.

First of all I saw a couple of half backs that the press need have no fear of letting themselves go so far as they like in the little matter of hyperboles, and I am referring to Gerry Sieberling and Alec McKenzie of the Calgary "Tigers."

This Sieberling would warm the heart of the most exacting coach in the business. He picks holes with the best of them and when he can no longer avoid a tackle he turns on steam and drives, and drives, and drives. A lot of them stop when a tackle is imminent. His exposition of the forward pass was one hundred per cent perfect. He is an ace in these parts. He came out of the game as fresh as when he went in, chewing his cud as though nothing had happened. And, boy, that is "sumpin."

McKenzie played the entire game with an injured leg, so nobody saw him at his best. But here is a fleet little halfback, with a great pair of hands, that can run in a broken field. He is all the papers said he was. And Calgary is in for a good year, because McKenzie is no slouch, and I am told this "Buck" Billings is better than McKenzie.

It is impossible to pass up that fighting demon, Fritz Sandstrom. He is steeped in the game of football, and the best tribute that I can pay him is to say that had he been with the Eskimos in 1922 they would surely have brought home the Dominion championship.

I saw another player that has never received his full meed of praise in these parts, and if he was playing down in the States his name would be ringing from the Pacific Coast to the Atlantic, and from the Canadian boundary to the Gulf of Mexico. Where did you ever see a greater drop kicker than Elwyn Jones? His light is hidden under a bushel. He is a wonder and nobody seems to know it.

The introduction of the forward pass into Canadian football is going to make Canadian rugby the most spectacular and prettiest game in the business. It may take several years to do it, for the old coaches will cling to their known successes. But the forward pass is bound to open up the game, and coupled with the spectacular lateral pass, the death knell of the old bone-crushing, line smashing tactics is being tolled. Light fast men with good hands and hair-trigger brains are going to have their innings.

My most bitter impression of the game, and one that I cannot understand, is the slender attendance. Instead of five or six thousand I am told there was only a paltry twelve hundred.

Why is it that they can't build stadiums vast enough in the States to accommodate the spectators, fifty to a hundred thousand seating capacity, in New Zealand and Eastern Canada they pack them in, but Western Canada continues to remain apathetic to the greatest game in the world that is played out of doors.

SOME RUGBY HISTORY

By JOE F. PRICE

Rugby was played in Alberta as early as 1890. That year, the records tell us, a Calgary rugby team travelled to Edmonton to play the first inter-city game. Edmonton was the winner of this game. Two years later another team from Calgary made two trips to Edmonton, breaking even on the series.

March 4, 1906 was the birthday of modern rugby in Calgary and Alberta, for on this day was formed the nucleus of the present Calgary Tigers. The first meeting was held in the old city hall, being called by Dr. E. G. Mason. Dr. Mason was elected president of the Calgary Rugby Club—an office he has held almost without interruption ever since.

Practices were held on the Mounted Police Barracks grounds, but no games were played that year.

well known Calgary business man and rugby coach, who gives an illuminating and accurate review of the game in today's program.

In 1907 the first "modern" inter-city games were played. The Calgary Club played two games with Edmonton and one with Strathcona. Edmonton again proved its prowess by winning both of its home games, but the game with Strathcona was won by the Tigers.

Up to this time all rugby games in Alberta had been played under the British Rugby rules. There had been a continual struggle among the players as to whether the game should be played under the Canadian or English code.

On August 27, 1908, a re-organization was held, at which Canadians predominated. The name of the Calgary club was changed to Calgary Tigers in honor of the team in Hamilton, Ontario, on which their president, Dr. E. G. Mason, had been a player in the early days. This was the year of the first city league, composed of the Tigers, Y.M.C.A., and Hillhurst. The Tigers and Y.M.C.A. tied for the championship; the Tigers winning the play-off, 6-0. For the provincial championship, two inter-city games were played with Edmonton, and again Edmonton proved the winner, the score being 11-5 and 10-6.

Thus it is seen that Edmonton in the earliest days had considerable advantage over Calgary.

In 1909 the Tigers collected one of the fastest teams that up to this time had played the game in Alberta. This team scored 162 points to its opponents 12. In this year Edmonton was defeated for the first time, the score being 26-1.

The year 1910 was a big rugby year; the first game with Edmonton in Calgary drawing one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a rugby game in the province. Over six thousand spectators saw the game. The Tigers won this game 26-5.

In 1911 the Calgary Tigers went through the season without a single defeat, capturing the Big Four and also the Western Canada championship. September 25th, 1911 marked an epoch in the history of rugby in Alberta, for it was on this date that the Alberta Rugby Football Union, known as "The Big Four," was organized. The Western Canada Union was also the result of the organization of the Alberta Rugby Union, for at the organization meeting a resolution was passed, urging the formation of a W.C.R.U., and this was consummated a week or so later. The names of Campbell Young, of Edmonton,—who had played in the first inter-city game in 1890—C. H. Belanger, Vivian Graham, Rev. "Bob" Pearson, "Squib" Ross, "Paddy" Johnston and Arnold Wark were prominent in this historical rugby year.

Rugby flourished during the next three years, but the war disorganized things in 1914. The Calgary Tigers won in 1912 and Edmonton Eskimos in 1913 when the game was played off in Red Deer. The 1914 title was undecided, although some exhibition games were played.

In 1915 the Calgary Canucks made their first appearance in senior company. This was a team that had graduated from the inter-scholastic rugby league. The Calgary Tigers, most of whom were in khaki, played under the colors of the 56th Battalion. The Canucks won the Calgary city championship, played off with the University of Alberta for the provincial championship, then travelled to Regina to play off for the Western Canada championship. They lost out after a great battle, by the score of 21-6. The Canucks then enlisted practically in a body for overseas service.

After a four year war-interlude rugby was revived in 1919 when the Big Four Union came into being again with the Calgary Canucks, Calgary Tigers, Edmonton Eskimos and University of Alberta as competitors. The Canucks were victorious and became eligible to play off with Regina for the Western Canada Championship. This game was played in Calgary, November 10, 1919, and resulted in a win for the Regina team by the score of 13 to 1.

In 1920 Calgary Tigers and Edmonton Eskimos, after each winning their respective city championships played a hot series of home and home games. Calgary won in Edmonton 27 to 15; Edmonton won in Calgary 18 to 8. The aggregate score of 35 to 33 gave the Tigers the right to play off with Regina for the Western Canada Championship. It was a Regina victory.

In 1921 the two Calgary teams amalgamated and as they could not agree to play under the colors of either one team they compromised by calling themselves the Calgary Bronks.

| Safety Touch .....              | 2 Points |
| Field Goal from Play .....      | 3 Points |
| Field Goal from Free Kick ..... | 2 Points |

The ball is kicked off from centre of commencement of first and third quarters, after a try has been scored—from the 40 yard mark after a field goal.

After a score of one or two points has been made the ball is scrimmaged by the side scored on, on the 25 yard mark.

NEW FORWARD PASS RULE

By W. L. (Squib) Ross

A forward pass may be played on the first or second down, but not on the third down. Penalty: Loss of ball on spot where pass was made.

A forward pass cannot be made inside opponents' 25 yard line. Penalty: Loss of ball.

A forward pass must be completed, that is, caught before touching the ground. Penalty: Loss of down and ball re-scrimmaged on spot where last scrimmaged.

Not more than six men are allowed to receive forward pass, two ends and four backs, and these will be marked by a white collar or arm band, or tab on back.

NOTE:—This is the first league game played in Calgary using the forward pass.

Official Canadian Rugby Rules

PART I

Parts two and three completing the official rules will appear in the next two issues of this program.

RULE I

DEFINITIONS

Note 1.—Changes in the Rules for this Season are indicated in the following manner: (1929)

NOTE 2.—The Onside Pass Rules are printed in black. These rules are to be used in all Junior and Interscholastic series and finals and in the Senior final between the East and West and in all series in the two Western Unions.

Ball.—Sec. 1.—The game is played by teams of 12 on each side, with a ball made of leather enclosing a rubber bladder. It shall be tightly inflated and shall have the shape of a prolate spheroid; circumference, long axis from 28 inches to 28½ inches; short axis from 22 inches to 22½ inches; length of long axis from 11 to 11¼ inches; weight from 14 to 15 ounces. (1929)

Grounds.—Section. 2.—The grounds shall be 110 yds. long by 65 yds. wide, or as near these dimensions as practicable, with the boundaries distinctly marked. A distinct double line shall be marked across the field at centre and at the 25-yard lines and the 40-yard line will be double thickness, at right angles to touch line, and single lines every five yards, on either side of centre line, and parallel to it. The centre line, 40-yard lines and 25-yard lines shall be extended at least one yard beyond both touch lines. The angle between the "touch in goal" line and the goal line produced will be filled with a white triangle two feet on each side.

The lines marking the sides are called touch lines, the lines marking the ends, the goal lines. Upright goal posts are placed in the middle of each goal-line at least 20 feet in height, placed 18 feet 6 inches apart, and with a cross-bar 10 feet from the ground. Twenty-five yards behind each goal line and parallel thereto is drawn a line called the dead-ball line. If the natural boundary of the field be less than 15 yards behind the goal line at either end, then such boundary constitutes the dead-ball line at that end.

The area enclosed by the goal-line, the dead ball line and the touch lines produced is called goal.

The bounds shall be defined as the inside of the touch lines, the touch lines produced and the dead-ball lines.

Attacking and Defending Side.—Sec. 3.—The side in possession of the ball shall be called "The Attacking Side"; the side not in possession of the ball shall be called "The Defending Side."

Drop Kick.—Sec. 4.—A Drop Kick is made by dropping the ball from the hands and kicking it with the foot just as it rises from the ground.

Place Kick.—Sec. 5.—A Place Kick is made by kicking the ball after it has been placed on the ground.

Punt.—Sec. 6.—A punt is made by letting the ball fall from the hands and kicking it with the foot before it touches the ground.

Flying Kick.—Sec. 7.—A Flying Kick is made by kicking the ball without touching it with the hands.

Kick-off.—Sec. 8.—A Kick-off is a place kick (a) from the centre point of the ground; (b) from the centre point of the 40-yard line, as in Rule V, Sec. 1.

Possessor.—Sec. 9.—When players of opposite sides have hold of the ball, the player who had first hold of and has not lost the ball is the Possessor, possession to mean having the ball firmly in the arms, legs or under the body.

Free Kick.—Sec. 10.—A Free Kick may be a punt, drop kick or place kick.

Line of Scrimmage.—Sec. 11.—The Line of Scrimmage shall be an imaginary line from touch line to touch line parallel to the goal line and passing through the spot where the ball is scrimmaged.

In Touch.—Sec. 12.—The ball is In Touch if it or the player with it in his possession is on or across the touch line; it is In Goal if it is on, behind or across the goal-line. If a ball is kicked and crosses the touch line while in the air, but curves or is blown back into the field of play without having touched the ground, a player or any other object, it shall not be considered as having been "in touch" and play shall continue without interruption.

Lateral Pass.—Sec. 13.—A Lateral Pass is made when the ball is thrown or handled by a player in any direction except toward the opponents' goal line. A pass is terminated when the ball hits a player, the ground, or any other object.

Onside Pass.—Sec. 14.—A completed "Onside or modified forward Pass" is one that having crossed the line of scrimmage, is cleanly caught by one of the eligible men of the attacking side, in the prescribed area, without having touched the ground or an ineligible man. (O.P., 1929)

Onside Pass Area.—Sec. 15.—The prescribed onside pass area is bounded by the attacking team's goal line, the touch lines and the defending team's 25-yard line. (O.P., 1929)

Offside Pass.—Knocked toward the opponents' dead-ball line (1929) with the hand or arm, or is handed or thrown forward. Except as defined in Sec. 14.

Dead Ball.—Sec. 17.—The ball is Dead (a) whenever the referee, umpire or head linesman blows his whistle; (b) when the referee has declared a down, try, goal, penalty-goal, safety-touch, rouge or touch-in-goal has been made; (c) when a fair catch has been marked; (d) when it goes out of bounds; (e) when it is absolutely motionless on the ground in the possession of a player, except for the purpose of making a place kick.

Note: Should the ball be absolutely motionless on the ground and not in possession of a player, it is still in play.

Note: Should the ball strike an official it is not regarded as dead, but play continues.

Held Ball.—Sec. 18.—The ball is Fairly Held, (a) when the ball carrier is tackled and is "fairly held," (b) when the player in possession of the ball ceases to advance because of being stopped or forced back by an opponent or opponents. This is called a down. (1929)

Try.—Sec. 19.—A Try is scored (i) the ball in possession of a player in his opponent's goal is declared dead by the referee any part of it being in goal; (ii) a player, having possession of the ball within the opponent's goal, goes into touch or over the dead-ball line while still retaining possession of the ball.

Convert.—Sec. 20.—(a) When a side has obtained a try, one of its players shall bring the ball into the grounds and from a point not closer than 25 yards from the goal line, he shall attempt to score a convert by a drop kick at goal. (1929)

(b) The kicker's side shall not be in front of the ball when it is kicked, and after a try has been awarded, no player other than the kicker shall touch the ball until it is kicked, and in case of infringement a convert cannot be scored. The convert shall not be allowed if it is kicked from a point closer than 25 yards from the goal-line.

(c) In case of a kick at goal from a try the opponents may charge from the goal line as soon as the ball touches the ground. The referee shall blow his whistle as soon as the ball touches the ground. If an opponent charges or interferes when he has not right to do so, the kicker may have his kick over again.

Rouge.—Sec. 21.—A Rouge is made:

(a) When a player whose side obtains possession of the ball in its own "goal" area; (i) makes his mark; (ii) has possession of the ball "dead" on or behind his own goal line; (iii) touches his own "dead ball line" or "touch in goal line" when in possession of the ball.

(b) When the ball touches or crosses the dead ball line or the touch in goal line, (it is not considered to have crossed a line if it does not touch the ground, a player or any other object beyond that line).

(c) When the defending side, having obtained possession of the ball in its own area (i) makes an offside pass in goal, (ii) commits interference in goal.

Note: (c) is subject to option expressed in Rule 11, Sec. 6.

Safety Touch.—Sec. 22.—A Safety Touch is scored when the ball has last touched a player of the side defending the goal in front of the goal-line prior to crossing the goal-line and he or one of his own side rouges it.

Fair Catch.—Sec. 23.—A Fair Catch is a catch made within the grounds direct from a kick from an opponent.

Foul.—Sec. 24.—A Foul is any infringement of a rule.

Goal.—Sec. 25.—A Goal is scored when the ball is kicked (except by a punt, flying kick or kick-off) from the grounds, and without again touching the ground, goes over the cross-bar and between the posts (or the posts produced) of the opponent's goal.

Scragging.—Sec. 26.—Scragging shall be defined as tackling or holding around the neck or head.

Duration of Play.—Sec. 27.—A play is in progress and the ball is in play from the time the ball is snapped until it is declared dead by the officials.

THE FOOTBALL CODE

You may meet players and even coaches who will tell you that it is all right to hold or otherwise violate the rules if you do not get caught. This is the code of men whose sense of honor is sadly lacking.

"The football code is different. The football player who intentionally violate a rule is guilty of unfair play and unsportsmanlike tactics, and whether or not he escapes being penalized, he brings discredit to the good name of the game, which it is his duty as a player to uphold."

SOME RUGBY HISTORY

This was the year of the great Edmonton victory—72 to 2. The date was October 7th. There were three teams in the league according to the schedule but according to the score there was only one. After their beating by the Eskimos early in the season the Bronks got some revenge by beating the University of Alberta in Calgary. The Eskimos romped through the Western Canadian championship with almost as much ease as they did through the Alberta one, and then went down to Toronto to play the Argos for the Canadian title. But the Argos won 23 to 0.

In 1923, the Calgary team playing under the banner of the 50th Battalion, re-entered senior rugby. Edmonton Eskimos won the senior championship, playing off with Regina in the semi-finals. Regina won 9 to 6.

The 1924 team of the 50th Battalion, coached by Bob Priestly, won the Alberta championship. After losing the first game to Edmonton the Soldiers overcame the 13 point lead by winning 15 to 1. The great Edmonton machine went down to defeat, a remnant of a title defending organization. The final game was played in Winnipeg for the Western title on November 15. Winnipeg won this game 11 to 9.

In 1925 the Calgary Tigers, after hibernating for a few years came back to life. But it was Edmonton's turn to win the championship and the University of Alberta became the title holders.

There was no senior competition in 1926 or 1927 but in the latter year the Eskimo Juniors won the series of home and home games from the Calgary Junior Tigers.

The Alberta Rugby Football Union was fully reorganized in 1928. The memory of these games still lingers with the fans. Edmonton Eskimos won the title but it was not decided in time to compete in the Canadian championship finals.

And this year—the 40th season since rugby was introduced here—promises to be the best yet.

Information-- Inspiration-- Entertainment--

are all so cleverly combined in The Calgary Albertan that it is recognized among newspaper men throughout the country as one of the best, cleanest and most ably edited newspapers in Canada.

There are many unusual features which mark The Albertan as Western Canada's superior Morning paper. In addition to all the news there are many regular departments and features printed daily in the columns of The Calgary Albertan.

"If It Will Help Alberta The Albertan Is For It"

- ¶ The advertiser who selects the proper medium to reach the quality market will be far above his competitors.
- ¶ Ernest Elmo Calkins says: "What we mean by quality circulation is merely a publication which selects its readers along the lines of their interests, ways of living, amusements, hobbies and sports." Alberta football followers represent the very ultimate of selectivity.
- ¶ Over 25,000 representative people will witness the seven major games between the University, Calgary and Edmonton. Truly, is there not purchasing power here.
- ¶ Space may be reserved for all games or for any one individually.
